General Ledger Process

The software which posts transactions to the General Ledger table has been modified. The modification affects how records are inserted into the table. The modification will be transparent to users and does not have any impact on reports or on-line inquiry screens.